The Angels of St. Albert

Angel carved by Brother Brochand in 1884.

"And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning and his raiment white as snow.

Matthew 27:2,3.

UNITED CHURCH

"The Temptations of Christ", a cantata by Eric Thiman, will be presented by the United Church Choir on Good Friday at 11 a.m. Soloists will be Margaret Trigg soprano, Douglas Petherbridge, baritone and Richard Leggett, tenor. Lillian Upright is choirmaster and organist. Beginning with a Prologue, the cantata falls into four sections. The first, "The Book of the Law", sets out those passages from Mosaic Law to which Jesus refers when tempted in the Wilderness. These temptations, in an effective setting for solo voices and choral responses form Part II of the work. Part III deals with Jesus' temptations in the ministry and Part IV with His temptations in Gethsemane and Calvary. The work then moves from the tragedy of the first Good Friday to conclude with a victorious epilogue taken from Philipians.

WJN.

We have more angels in St. Albert than most of us realize. Recently we had the thrill of photographing them. We refer to the beautiful wooden angels carved by Brother Brochard for the altar in the chapel of the Mission Rectory and also the crypt where Bishop Grandin, Father Leduc and Father Lacombe are buried. Some of his beautiful work can also be seen in St. Mary's Church in Calgary. He was a sculptor by profession, and arrived in St. Albert with Bishop Grandin in 1874 at the age of 38. He lived in St. Albert until 1894, when he was appointed sculptor to the Cathedral in Metz, France.

One of his most impressive works here in St. Albert is The Last Supper, a magnificent scene of Jesus and His disciples the night before He was betrayed. Brother Brochard carved each man individually giving a very lifelike effect. This scene is in a glass case under the altar in the chapel of the Mission Rectory in St. Albert.

To help your family understand the meaning of Easter better, you should plan a visit to this crypt. To see the chapel, contact Father Chevrier or Father Morin.

Working closely with Brother Brochard was Brother Bowes, an Irish architect whose father was the builder of the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa. In 1870, the year he met Bishop Grandin in Ottawa Brother Bowes, who was a graduate architect, came to St. Albert where he devoted his life to the mission in Western Canada. He designed and built the second cathedral in St. Albert in 1875. This cathedral was later destroyed by fire.

There is an anecdote about Br. Bowes, who was a strong believer. One day he was with his workers building the Cathedral. The men were worried that the locks used for the structure would not fit right. Br. Bowes said to his men, "Put your axes in the locks and take a rest. God will help us." When they came back from lunch they found that all the locks fitted perfectly. They knew that Br. Bowes had prayed for it. Brother Bowes died in 1908 and he is buried in the Oblates Cemetery here in St. Albert. We are grateful to Brother Guibert who supplied us with all this information. Brother Guibert, who is a resident of the Rectory in St. Albert was formerly the editor of the Indian Paper in Hobema.

ANGLICAN CHURCH NOTICES

ANGLICAN MISSION BECOMES A PARISH

At a confirmation service held at the Paul Kane High School on March 18th, a significant step forward was made by the St. Matthew's Mission in St. Albert. During the service, at which fifteen persons were presented to the Rt. Rev. W.G. Burch, Bishop of Edmonton, to receive the "Laying on of Hands", the Bishop presented to the Church Wardens of the parish the deed of erection incorporating it as a duly constituted parish of the diocese. Receiving the deed were Mr. E. Shanley, the Minister's Warden who has served the parish since its inception, and Mr. D. J. Thompson, Peoples Warden, who succeeded Mr. E. Jackson to that office in January of 1964. In presenting the deed Bishop Burch spoke encouragingly of the progress the parish had made, looking forward to the time when it might be possible to purchase a site in St. Albert for the erection of a church.

The confirmation, which was followed by a brief reception arranged by the St. Matthew's W.A., was attended by members of St. Mary's Choir from the Highlands. The candidates were presented by the incumbent, the Rev. C. Dawkins and Mr. P. Turek served as the Bishop's Chaplain.

AN EASTER GREETING FROM ST. MATTHEW'S ANGLICAN PARISH

"The Lord is Risen....."

We welcome you to our services, and wish to each and every family this Eastertide that same joy and gladness which so filled the hearts of the first disciples when they learned that Christ was risen from the dead.

EASTER MESSAGES

Easter, so what?

Rev. Dr. E. R. Schwarz

Such were the words flung at me recently by a non-Christian and this opened the way to a discussion of the Easter Celebration of the Church. Christmas is the Church's celebration of the beginning of God's revelation of Himself to mankind through Jesus, the Christ, Good Friday marks the apparent end of this by the Cross on Calvary, and Easter marks a new stage in God's Revelation to man. So central is this in Protestantism that the bare Cross is the customary symbol used in the Church.

In Luke 23-24 we read how Jesus was executed on the Friday and, because the Law forbade that a corpse be handled on the Sabbath (Saturday) or that it be left unburied, Jesus was hastily placed in a tomb and left till Sunday for proper preparation, they found Jesus gone.

For 1900 years the unsympathic, the cynical, the skeptical, and the hostile have shrugged their shoulders and asked, "So what?" A few women went to a tomb and found it open (fact), they found the body gone (fact), they talked with two individuals (fact), from this they were convinced that Jesus was not dead (opinion based on hearsay), they spread this opinion among the disciples (this was readily accepted), and Peter went to check for himself (fact) and went away wondering. From this they go on to reject the event as fanciful, or they see the event as "spiritual" rather than "fleshly" in meaning or they consider the later appearances of Jesus as subjective imaginings.

Whatever they do, however, they cannot change the fact that the followers of Jesus moved out of the despair of Good Friday into boundless confidence that has sent them across continents, that has led them to challenge pagan and hostile state leaders and intellectuals and to attempt the evangelism of the world and this has continued to the present. This has come about because the Resurrection has changed life in three major areas - first, Man's Situation in Life; people feel a sense of futility when their lives are bound by law, convention and custom but the resurrection point man toward eternity and endless new horizons; people are subject to bitterness but the resurrection points to a time beyond pain and failure when God's Purposes shall be fulfilled and people are tormented by injustice, the false accusation, the unfair word, the betrayal by friends but the resurrection points to a balancing of the scales despite man's use of crowns of thorns, purple robe and sceptres made of reeds. The resurrection testifies to a world that will not be ruled by fatality, bitterness or injustice.

Second, Man's Attitudes in Life; We like to live in a neat closed system of life in which our ways and values reign, we like to ignore death because it is beyond our control. On this basis we see men strive for power, wealth, influence and "success". They feel that if they don't "make it" now, they never will. The resurrection corrects this attitude by placing this life in the role of preparation for eternity. The resurrection carries us from perplexity through fear to confidence.

And third, Man's Understanding of Life; the resurrection ends the view of man that life is an ordeal that will mercifully end in a box under six feet of ground because it witnesses to the failure of the grave to defeat God's purposes in Jesus Christ; nor does it allow men to be frivolous about life. Life is worth while and serious preparation for eternity. This understanding of life, as I see it, offers hope and value that neither the libertine nor the despairing can ever match.

YOU are invited to share in it.

EASTER MESSAGE

Father Georges Chevrier

Since Palm Sunday, all over the world, Christians, in spirit, have followed step by step, Jesus throughout His Passion. In a very special way, from His last supper and His agony in the garden our mind is captured by this greatest drama that ever took place in the history of the world.

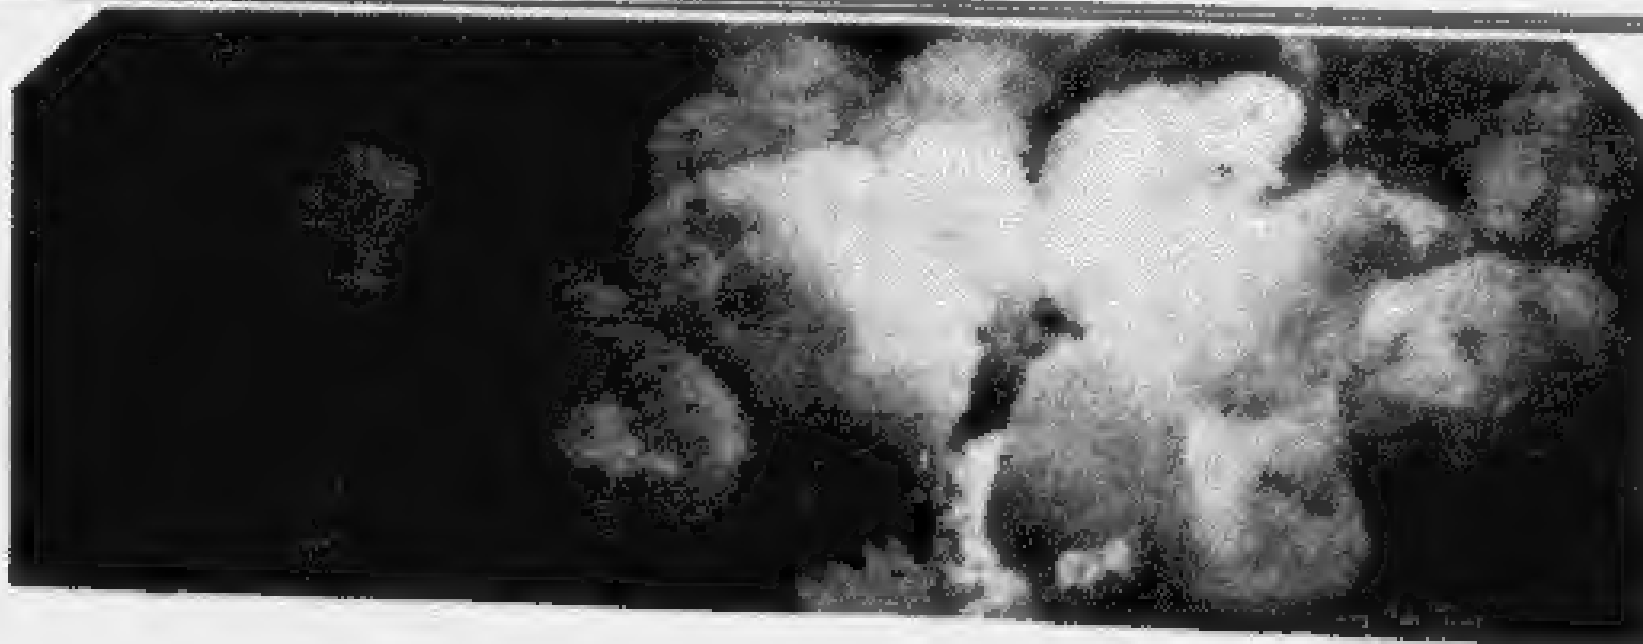

Jesus is captured. He appears before Pilate and Herod. He is scourged and crowned with thorns. After His condemnation to death, we are invited to meditate on His seven last words after His crucifixion on the cross, "Father, forgive them; they do not know what they are doing" "I promise thee, this day thou shalt be with Me in Paradise" "Woman, this is thy son" "This is thy Mother" "I thirst" "Father, into Thy hands I commend My spirit"

That God the Son should become incarnate is a mystery; that He should die for man kind on the cross, is a far greater mystery. It proves the infinite love of Jesus who said: "Greater love than this no man hath, that a man lay down his life for a friend."

The life of Jesus seemed doomed to failure by His tragic death on the cross. But early on Easter Sunday, by His own power He left the grave. To the women who had come to visit the tomb, an angel said, "You need not be afraid, I know well that you have come to look for Jesus of Nazareth. He is not here; He has risen, as He told you. Come and see the place where the Lord was buried. You must go in haste and tell His disciples that He has risen from the dead." The Risen Christ appears to the women, to the disciples and during forty days, completed the training of His Apostles.

And now on Easter we all exclaim: ALLELUIA! Joy, praise and exaltation burst forth on this day that the Lord has made.

Contentment and a mysterious, exultant feeling fill our hearts, because, through God's special inspiration of this day we felt a foretaste of that blessing and eternal delight which is in store for us.

played in their window in Gaudin Shop-pers Park.

Curling Rink

MIXED CURLING

The St. Albert Mixed Curling League is winding up a most successful year. Interest in the league was the highest ever, this past season, with very keen competition being shown by the 24 rinks who do battle each Saturday night in the local curling arena from October to April. Such was the demand for mixed curling this season, that an additional group of 12 rinks formed an overflow league which is presently competing on Friday evenings. Plans are presently underway to accommodate some 48 rinks in the 1964-65 season, with curling on Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons. The calibre of curling has increased in a marked degree and this is seen in the fact that no rink has gone through the schedule without a defeat. At present, with only two league games left to play, the four top teams rank as follows: 1. Joe. McLeod, 2. Clarence Hayes, 3. Stan Smith, 4. Bob Hudson. These four are being hard pressed by Benny Kluthe, Ed Sherman and PeeWee Quintal, and depending on the outcome of the last two games, the possibility exists that the top four positions will change. At stake for the top four rinks, is a berth in the sudden-death play off for the Veness Service Station Trophy, emblematic of mixed curling supremacy at the local level.

Herb Blacklock checks the Mixed League Draw.

The Men's Square Draw has also shown a sharp increase in activity this season, with 24 rinks participating in alternate draws on Monday and Thursday nights. The leaders in this league are: 1. Ray Kramer, 2. Richard Bird, with Carl Summers and Armand Donalds tied for the third and fourth spots. Next season this league will be increased to 48 rinks with draws on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Even then, some doubt exists as to whether or not everyone wishing to play will be able to do so, since the prospective demand would appear to be so great. Directly responsible in no small way, for all the increased activity at the curling rink this past season is the

The Party Line

If this is spring, give us back winter! This was the thought over the weekend when the temperature dipped way down. Nevertheless, spring is officially here according to the calendar. Time for those new spring outfits. Have you visited our newest store, St. Clair Ladies Wear? A fresh spring atmosphere greets you as you enter the bright and spacious interior. The store has six good-sized fitting rooms and in the main area of the store, a three-way mirror where you may check your all around appearance.

I was most impressed by the complete line of stock carried - everything from the skin out, including nylons, jewelry and accessories - purses, gloves, etc. Dresses and suits include good brand names by Miss Sun Valley, Jacqueline Junior, Leo Donal and others; sportswear by Tan Jay and Val Hughes to name just a few. Lingerie is by Luxite and foundation garments by Exquisite, Gothic and Daisy Fresh. Sizes are complete from the petite 5 to 20. Basic maternity fashions are also carried. All lines range in the medium price field. The congenial manager, Mr. Glowicki, has been in the retail business for some 10 years and has specialized in ladies-wear for the past five years.

This store is one of a chain, two of which are located in Edmonton proper, offering a wider variety of styles which can readily be made available to St. Albert customers. In addition to the many lines carried, specific merchandise will be ordered on request. The staff are pleasant and experienced and please note prices are competitive, satisfaction

CLUB NOTES

The W.I.'s Festival in Fashion held last Friday in the St. Albert High School was a great success. A large crowd enjoyed this showing of spring fashions from Simpson's Sears Ltd., graciously modeled by St. Albert ladies, teens and children. At intermission, several door prizes donated by St. Albert merchants were drawn for and then the audience was treated to a presentation of spring hats modeled by professional models from Simpson's; Mrs. L. Irvine and Mrs. M. Bosson. The commentator for the show was Mrs. Neil Ross who did an excellent job as did the convenor, Mrs. Adams and her committee arranging this event and the models trained by Mrs. Sivan.

The C.A.G., W.I. and a number of husbands met recently and enjoyed a timely and informative meeting. Mr. R. J. Haigh, horticulturist from the Dept of Public Works, gave tips on preparation, testing of soil, seeding and general care of lawns. In discussing landscaping, Mr. Haigh pointed out that some shrubs are poisonous and care should be taken where children are concerned not to plant poisonous shrubs.

The St. Matthew's W.I. wish to thank all ladies of the Anglican Congregation who so kindly donated baked goods for our bake sale. We also wish to thank Safeway Stores for giving us space in their store.
